

Crystal Reports

We are able to provide you with a full solution for your reporting requirements. Crystal Reports is easy to use, flexible and combines the interactivity you need to build powerful reports from any data source. This package is able to deliver a high level of output to the Web in a number of different formats, or you can Integrate this software with other applications.

This reporting application enables you to create reports quickly and efficiently. The software is designed to create anything from simple to complex reports, with the aid of powerful wizards and experts. With built in help, all levels of users are able to assemble interactive reports with ease. Crystal allows you to compile reports with extra features included, such as charts, drill down, alerting, parameter prompts and hyperlinks, which transforms reports in to compelling interactive documents.

Users are able to create rich content from almost any data resource, which includes XML, OLAP or relational. This software includes Add-ins for Microsoft Excel and Access, which makes the process of creating reports effortless, as well as enabling users to examine trends, expose relationships to highlight crucial points.

This application offers a range of proven components that fully support Windows environments, which include; Microsoft Visual Basic, Visual InterDev, Visual C++, Lotus Domino Designer and Delphi. Crystal Reports incorporates Report Streaming technology to optimise report-processing performance in both on-demand (real time) and scheduled reporting scenarios via the Web. Report Streaming is able to break down reports in to small pieces, and then these pieces are passed down to the viewer in near real-time in order to compose the first page. This means that you don't need to wait for your report to be processed before you are able to see the first page.

Included with in the reporting solution, we are able to provide you with the consultancy that you require in order to help you to choose the right software. We will also supply, install and fully implement your reporting application in to your existing operating environment as well as offering you a full software support service. We can also assist you with any training requirements that you may have for this software.

KCG/POB/ AP/RPT/CRY
2.0/07.05.04

